

Proposed Statewide Deer, Elk, and Moose Carcass/Carcass Parts Disposal Requirement

Deer, elk and moose taken in Montana may be transported within Montana to a camp, a private residence for processing, a taxidermist, a processor, or a CWD sample collection site in Montana, provided the head and all portions of the spinal column remain at the site of the kill or such parts are disposed of in a class II landfill in Montana.

Except as provided above, only the following parts of any deer, elk or moose taken in Montana may be transported within Montana: parts suitable for food with no part of the spinal column or head attached; cleaned hide without the head; skull or skull plate or antlers that have been cleaned of all meat and brain tissue; teeth; or, finished taxidermy mounts.

Nothing in this section shall apply to the transportation or disposal of deer, elk and moose taken by any governmental agency or educational institution.
